The influence of Mars on the assassinations of US Presidents and Presidential candidates: A Matter of National Security
by Anthony of Boston

Mars may have an influence on presidential assassinations. One astrologer predicted the attempted assassination of Donald Trump back in 2015 by observing Mars in relation to the fixed star Algol.

An astrologer named Astrology King predicted the assassination attempt of Donald Trump by observing the planet Mars (and Uranus) in relation to where the fixed star Algol was situated in Donald Trump's astrological birth chart.

Here are the astrology charts for assassinated and nearly assassinated US presidents and US presidential candidates, starting with Donald Trump's.

Below are graphics showing the birth charts of both assassinated and nearly assassinated presidents and presidential campaigners along with where the stars aligned on the day of their assassination or assassination attempt, as indicated in green. Notice where Algol is circled in red in each president's birth chart, along with where Mars was on the day that they were shot. Mars on the day of assassination is colored green and seems to appear within a 30 degree orb of where Algol is situated in the natal chart of each president. Notice Mars(in green) falling within the 30 degree orb of Algol(red lines) However, this alignment doesn't appear to apply to Abraham Lincoln's assassination, nor to Reagan’s attempted assassination.

In all of the charts shown, there does seem to be a pattern of Mars being within relative proximity to the fixed star Algol on the day that assassinations were carried out. This paper gives examples of how the parameters used to predict the assassination attempt of Donald Trump applied to the assassinations and assassination attempts of previous presidents and presidential campaigners.

Of the 46 US presidents, a total of 11 presidents had Mars in either the constellation of Taurus or Scorpio. (using Sidereal Astrology Chart calculator)

George Washington, Martin Van Buren, Rutherford Hayes, Andrew Jackson, Warren Harding, Joe Biden, John Kennedy, Gerald Ford, Abraham Lincoln, James Garfield, and William McKinley all had Mars in either the constellation of Taurus or Scorpio.

From this data, the risk of being killed in office goes up 36% if the president was born with Mars either in Taurus or Scorpio

Another note is that those who survived assassination attempts, like Trump, Roosevelt and Reagan, did not have Mars in either of those constellations of Taurus or Scorpio.
